

Risk seen from afar...

9.00AM
Introduction

9.20AM

New Hippos at the Water Hole: How Biofuels and Tech are Challenging Water Law and Management

Mark S. Davis,

Research Professor and Director, Institute on Water Resources Law and Policy
Director, Tulane Center for Environmental Law, Faculty Director, Tulane University, New Orleans

9.40AM

Mitigating Water Risks through Integrated River Basin Management: How is it, Should it be, and Can it be Applied in the United States

Christopher Dalbom

Senior Research Fellow, Assistant Director, Institute on Water Resources Law and Policy, Deputy Director, Tulane University, New Orleans

10AM

Discussion, coffe break

10.30AM

Managing Controversies over Japan's Decision to Release "ALPS Treated Water": Which Legal Techniques and Avenues?

Hirano Miharuru

Associate Professor, Faculty of Law, Kobe University

10.50AM

The case of Rivers as a subject of rights. Ecuadorian case

Andrés Martínez-Moscoso

Professor, Institute of Legal Research Director,
Universidad San Francisco de Quito

11.10AM

The case of Rivers as a subject of rights.
Continental perspective

Piotr Szewdo,

Professor, Jagellonian University of Cracow

11.30AM

Discussion, lunch break

Risk seen up close...

2.00PM

Water protection in the environmental code of the Loyalty Islands (of New Caledonia): a successful example of legal crossbreeding?

Claire Joachim,

Associate Professor at the University of New Caledonia, LARJE, CECOJI

2.20PM

Managing the risk of water shortages in France

Loïc Peyen,

Associate Professor at the University of Toulouse Capitole

2.40PM

Excess water: the laws of nature serving the control of overflowing rivers

Philippe Billet,

Full Professor at the University of Lyon III,
Director of the Lyon Institute of Environmental Law (EVS-IDE, UMR 5600).

3.00PM

Discussion, coffe break

3.30PM

Private international law on cross-border water pollution

Prof. Dr. Peter Jung,

Maître en droit, Ordinarius für Privatrecht, Juristische Fakultät der Universität Basel

3.50PM

Water and civil liability

Anthony Tardif

Associate Professor at the University of Haute-Alsace (CERDACC)

4.10PM

Discussion, synthesis

Symposium validated for 6 hours of continuing education for lawyers.

Free but required registration under the link below :

Registration